

Dear Mr. Weeden, CEO Sakuma Bros. Farm,

I am a consumer of berries, as well as a supporter of the National Farm Worker Ministry and justice for farm workers. I am troubled by the injustices suffered by the farm workers who work for Sakuma Bros. Farm, such as unfair and unhealthy production standards, hostile working conditions and attempts to replace union members with H2A guest workers.

I will no longer purchase Sakuma berries, Driscoll's berries or Häagen-Dazs strawberry ice cream until Sakuma Bros. 1) recognizes Familias Unidas por la Justicia (FUJ) as the representative of the farm workers who work at Sakuma Bros.; 2) addresses grievances in good faith; and 3) negotiates a fair and legally binding contract with FUJ.

I ask you to do the right thing!

Sincerely,
